

Take a CELPHIE

THE FIRST STEP TOWARD A SOLUTION

The consequences of undiagnosed, untreated mental illnesses cost American taxpayers billions of dollars each year.¹ While research shows that one in five Americans live with a mental disorder, less than half of those who suffer are ever properly diagnosed. And, while half of all mental illnesses begin by age 14, most of those who do seek treatment wait decades before their first request for help.²

CELPHIE addresses this growing public health problem. This first ever empirically-derived mental health screening tool quickly and efficiently assesses overall mental health functioning and the need for referrals or follow-up treatment with mental health professionals.

Reduces the Stigma That Prevents Many from Seeking Help

Effective in Many Settings to Assess Most Mental Health Problems

+ Easy to Access and Take a database-driven, tablet and smart phone enabled online screening tool effectively deployed in a variety of clinical or office settings in 5 to 10 minutes to identify and intervene with individuals of any age considered at risk for mental health problems

+ Evidence Based Results evidence-based surveys developed by clinical psychologists to assess most mental health needs

+ Private and Secure securely provides patients and practitioners HIPPA compliant location-specific information and initial recommendations

+ Customized Reporting reports are efficient and tailored to the individual's needs and the resources within particular geographic regions and government jurisdictions

+ A Powerful Tool for Decision Makers aggregates key data to help program managers and administrators evaluate community trends and program effectiveness

For a free online demonstration, visit Celphie.org, or call us at (904) 277-0027 to learn more about how CELPHIE can help.

celphie
SELF SCREENING FOR YOUR MENTAL STATE